

Country

In terms of soil, climate and health, the remote Atakora region of Northwest Benin is one of Africa's most disadvantaged areas.

Health situation

The health zone based on the hospital in Tanguiéta has become a model project in an area where the health service is particularly fragile. Much as to be done to meet the population's real needs, especially in the prevention of childbirth mortality.

About the project

The project aims to increase its missions to Tanguiéta where it provides surgery to mothers with childbirth fistulas. At the same time it is working to improve response to childbirth emergencies, train midwives and develop health education and obstetric care.

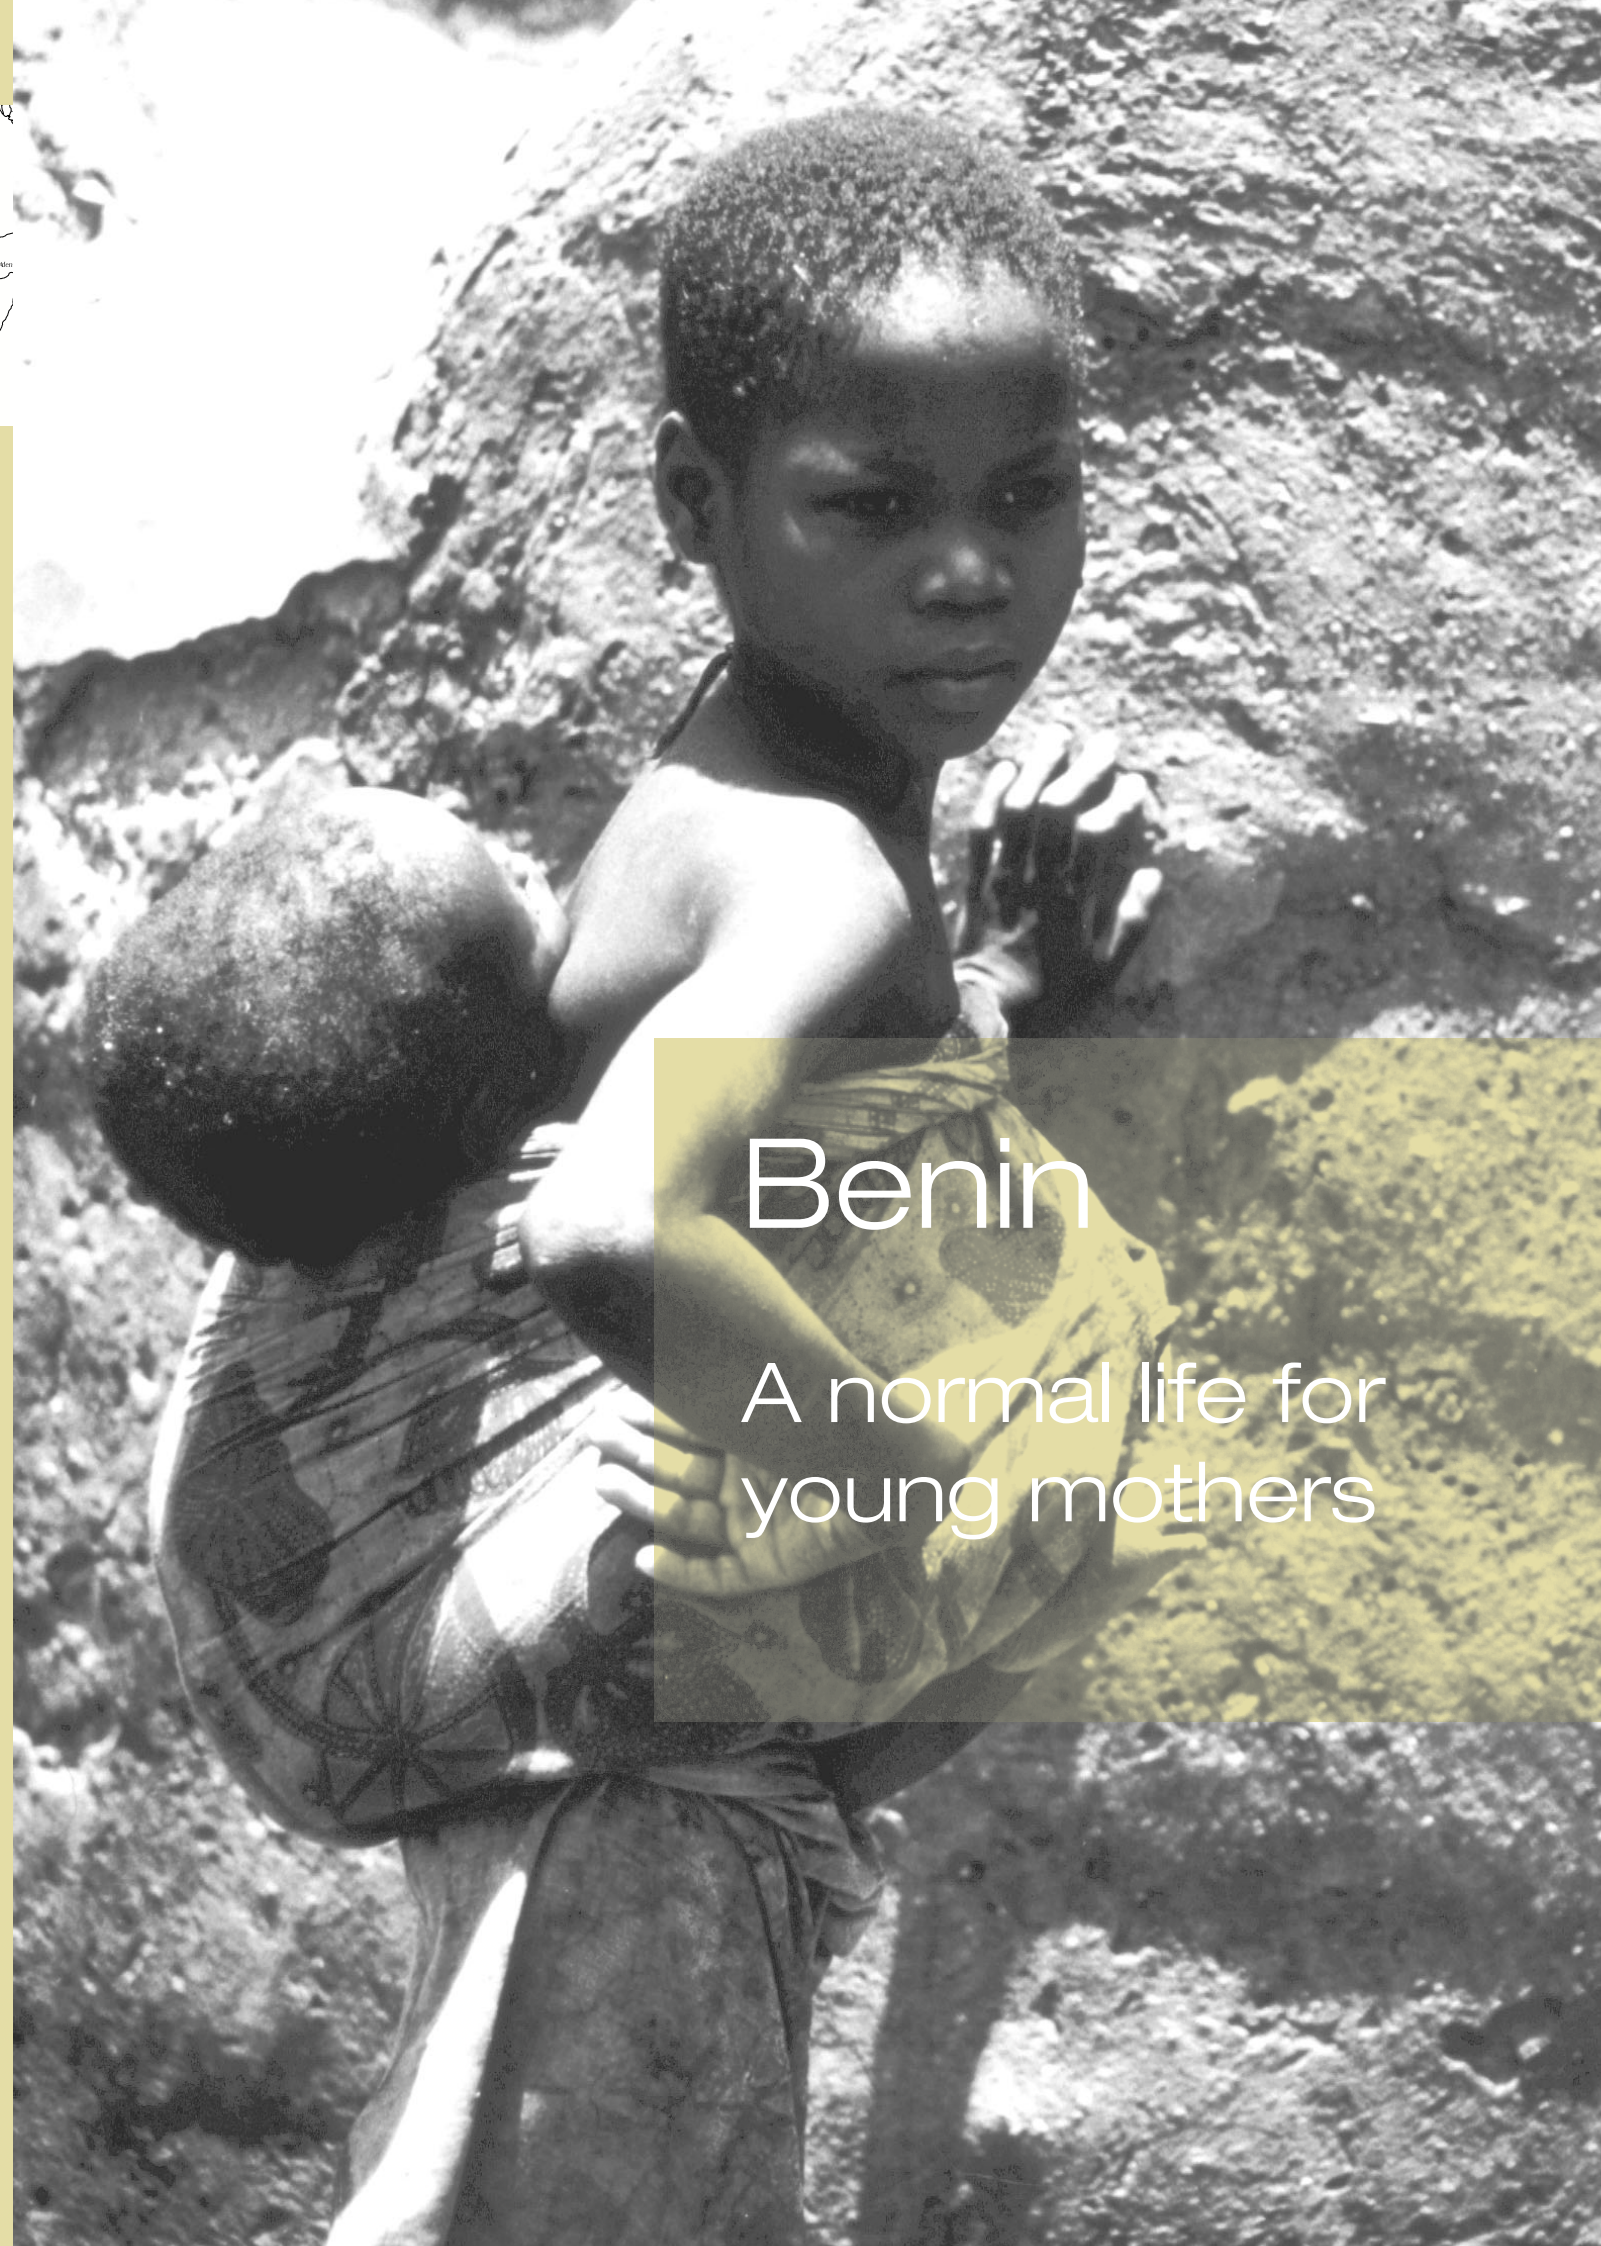

What we need ?

- ☐ Specialists in vesico-vaginal surgery
- ☐ Create awareness of childbirth fistulas
- ☐ Promote the Tanguiéta health-care model
- ☐ Financial support

Contact

rochat@deckpoint.ch

Benin

A normal life for young mothers